Information letter

This is to inform you that in 2023-2024 the Nizhny Novgorod State M. I. Glinka Conservatory is holding another International music Olympiad in the subjects “art of instrumental performance: piano, concert woodwind instruments (flute, oboe, clarinet, bassoon, saxophone)”.

The International music Olympiad is held in three age and educational groups:

- A-group - citizens of Russia and other countries, aged 11 to 16, who study in senior classes of Children’s art schools and music schools, and also I and II year students of secondary professional educational institutions (musical colleges), foreign educational organizations of an appropriate level;
- B- group - citizens of Russia and other countries, aged 17 to 21, III and IV year students of secondary professional educational institutions, students of senior classes of specialized schools and lyceums, I and II second year students for a Bachelor’s (or Specialist) degree, foreign educational organizations of an appropriate level;
- C-group - citizens of Russia and other countries, aged 22 to 35, III and IV year students for a Bachelor’s or Specialist degree, or those with a Bachelor’s (or Specialist) degree.

The International music Olympiad is held in two stages. The first – selective stage– is held at the premises of Russian and foreign higher educational establishments, musical colleges, children’s art schools, specialized schools and lyceums from 1 December 2023 to 1 April 2024. The information about holding the selective phase is provided to the organizer (the Nizhny Novgorod state M. I. Glinka Conservatory) in the form of a protocol from a selection board.

The selective stage is held in the following forms:

- for participants, who receive additional professional education, or study upon the preparatory program for entering higher educational establishments - in the form of on-site selective audition for the profiles “piano”, “concert woodwind instruments” at the premises of the Nizhny Novgorod state M. I. Glinka Conservatory;
- for participants who receive additional pre-professional education, secondary professional and higher education - in the form of selective auditions, which are held at the premises of institutions they study at;
- foreign citizens.

Winners and awardees of the first stage are allowed to take part in the second (final) stage, which is held at the premises of the Nizhny Novgorod state M. I. Glinka Conservatory.

Winners and awardees of the International music Olympiad of the previous year, who continue to receive education in secondary professional and higher educational establishments are allowed to take part in the Olympiad without a selective audition.

The due date for submission of applications for participation in the final stage of the Olympiad is 1 April 2024. Applications are to be sent both in electronic and printed form to the e-mail address glinka.olimpiada@yandex.ru.

The second – final stage – is held in the form of on-site audition at the premises of the Nizhny Novgorod state M. I. Glinka Conservatory, at 40, Piskunov Street, Nizhny Novgorod, 603005.

The dates of holding the final stage: 24-27 April 2024.

We ask you to carry out the selective stage of the Olympiad on the basis of your educational institution and send information about the participants and winners of this stage (the protocol form is attached, the protocol is certified by the signature of the head and the seal of the institution) no later than April 1, 2024 in a scanned version to the email address: nngk.olimpiada@yandex.ru. Please note that the protocols of the selective stage of the Olympiad should not be dated later than March 30, 2024

The full information about the international music Olympiad is located in the section "Olympiads, contests, festivals" on the official WEBSITE of the Nizhny Novgorod State M. I. Glinka Conservatory www.nnovcons.ru.

Applications for participation in the final stage of the Olympiad are to be sent to the e-mail address glinka.olimpiada@yandex.ru or personally to the conservatory building (Rector's office) until April 1, 2024.
